Berlin, Sunday May 11.—Demonstrations against the signing of the peace treaty were held today in Berlin, Danzig, Koenigsberg, Cassel, Bochum and other places.
Dr. Gustav Stresemann, one of the people's party leaders spoke in protest against the demand for the surrender of former Emperor William.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Berlin, Sunday, May 11.—"Germany has seized and unfurled a new banner on which are inscribed President Wilson's 14 points, which the president apparently has deserted," said Friedrich Ebert, the German president, in a statement to the Associated Press today.
President Ebert called the peace treaty a "monstrous document." He declared that history holds no precedent for such determination to annihilate completely vanquished peoples.

REFERRED TO EXPERTS.
Paris, May 12, 4:05 P. M.—The Council of Four at its meeting today decided to refer the German notes on labor and war prisoners to experts for consideration instead of answering them at once as it was the first time communications from the German delegation.
CONSIDER ANSWERS.
Paris, May 12.—The Council of Four at the peace conference met this morning and took up consideration of the replies to be made to the latest German notes—those regarding labor matters and prisoners of war.
The peace conference leaders are reported by the newspapers to have decided yesterday upon the terms of the reply.
According to the newspapers the basis of the second note is a labor charter inspired by the conferences at Berlin, May 12.—A full session of the national assembly was held here today to consider the peace terms. Before the session opened it was reported that the assembly would reject the treaty.

Committees representing the six main political parties held a series of caucuses lasting all day Saturday and Sunday and, with the exception of the Independents, it was reported that all adopted resolutions that the treaty was unacceptable and could not be signed.

Leeds and Berne, and they argue that the purpose is to create among socialists an opinion favorable to Germany by putting in direct collaboration the working classes and the present government of that country.
Ask Prisoner Return.
Paris, Sunday, May 11.—Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, German foreign minister, in addressing a note to Premier Clemenceau relative to the repatriation of prisoners asks that the details of the transfer be entrusted to commissions.
The German foreign minister states that the German peace delegation has "noted with satisfaction" that the draft of the treaty recognizes in principle the repatriation of German war and civilian prisoners with great expedition and says that special commissions might carry on direct oral discussions which would include all desiderata.

Says Work Should Be Easy.
The note says that this work should be much easier now that the war is over and that the German peace delegation is not in a position of over-estimation or lack of clearness on particular points, such as legal conception in individual countries. "The German delegation," it said, "considers it indispensable that these war and civilian prisoners detained or undergoing punishment for other than disciplinary offenses should in principle be included among those to be unconditionally repatriated."
Regarding war and civilian prisoners of allied and associated powers in its hands, the note says, "Germany has recognized the same principle and appears desirous to extend to the German delegation therefore that on grounds of fairness certain allegations in the treatment of prisoners should be agreed upon pending their return."
In a one-sided manner, some feel the stipulations have been made in favor of the allied and associated governments. For instance, those regarding the surrender of personal property, the search for missing ob-

New York, May 12.—(Special)—The newest sensation in New York is the fierce family quarrel among the heirs of Jay Gould. They have taken their cases into the courts and some sensational revelations are promised.
Frank J. Gould accuses his brother George, who is executor and trustee of the estate of his father, Jay Gould, of various frauds and violations of the law, resulting in a loss to the estate of $25,000,000. Frank has obtained a court order compelling George to show cause why he should not be removed from office.
George Gould's son, Kingdon, is also charged with serious offenses. It is claimed by Frank that Kingdon and his father burned personal records and books which would have shown that the older Gould made use of the funds

K. C. INITIATION IS BIG SUCCESS; 700 AT BANQUET

Knights of Columbus from all over Wisconsin and Northern Illinois gathered here yesterday and participated in one of the largest and most successful initiations held in the northwest in years. Four hundred visiting knights were present. A class of 102 candidates from Janesville and enough more from nearby councils to place the total above the 150 mark took the degree work. Between 700 and 800 attended the banquet at Eagles hall which closed the day's activities.
George M. Neumer, chairman, T. J. Reilly, Matthew Roherty and A. J. Wilbur were in charge of arrangements.

Dr. W. H. McGuire, grand knight, presided as toastmaster at the banquet. The Janesville and visiting candidates were given places of honor in the large hall which proved inadequate to seat all and it was found necessary to utilize the S. A. W. V. hall adjoining.
Community singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" led by Anthony Olinger, commenced the program. The invocation was spoken by Rev. C. M. Olson, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church here. During Joe Banquet and the program, members of the Arcadia orchestra, furnished the music. They were forced to respond with encores to many of their numbers.

W. H. Douglass, city, state deputy, enlightened the speaking hour with his remarks and paved the way for many speakers following. District Deputy J. E. Duggan, Delavan, also spoke. R. J. Kennedy, Milwaukee, a leading Knight of Columbus worker in Wisconsin, gave a forceful address, "The Spirit of America." Vocal solos were sung by Mr. Olinger, Dennis McCarthy, Appleton; and Frank Ellyn, Green Bay.
Mayor Thomas E. Welsh was called upon for some remarks as was the Rev. Father Joseph E. Mahoney, formerly assistant pastor at St. Patrick's church. A number of the candidates spoke.
Members of the Beloit council, led by the Rev. Father Joseph E. Mahoney, who appeared on the program and spoke on "Our Order," an exceptionally pleasing address embodying the ideals and activities of the organization, extended an invitation to Janesville and visiting knights to attend an initiation and banquet to be held at the Line City a week from next Sunday.

M. E. CHURCH AND C. OF C. BACK WORK

CONGREGATION OF 450 FAVOR GAZETTE'S PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN.

OFFICIALS AND POLICE PRAISED

Members' Council Signifies Desire For Better City by Unanimous Rising Vote.

Hearty endorsement of the mayor, police board and police department in their attempt to rid Janesville of the undesirable who have made the city an operating ground for vice for the last few weeks has been given by the Chamber of Commerce and the Cargill Memorial M. E. church.
A resolution was adopted at the Cargill church yesterday, after Rev. Franklin F. Lewis, pastor, told of the conditions which had existed for some time and which the city officials and police department set out to change after attention had been called to them in the Gazette. About 450 members of the congregation unanimously favored the resolution when it was presented to them by the pastor.
The Chamber of Commerce went on record this noon at the members' council luncheon, when A. E. Matheson offered a resolution commending the city officials for the alacrity with which they started a clean-up. The members adopted the resolution by a rising vote.
Following is the resolution adopted by the Cargill Memorial church congregation:

"Whereas: Our city of late has been over-run with drunkenness and open lewdness due in large part to people of questionable character coming here from dry territory around us, and from the removal of constraints that have operated during the war, and
"Whereas, many people of our own city of the same character have joined with the outside element to make Janesville a wide open city and thereby bring dishonor to the community and the state, therefore "Be it resolved, that the people of this congregation commend the action of the chief of police and the mayor and that we pledge to them our most hearty support in this endeavor, and
"Be it further resolved that we commend the Janesville Gazette in its open and fearless stand in the publicity of these unsavory conditions.
"Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the chief of police, to the mayor and to the Gazette."

HOLDS WAR ORDER VALID UNTIL TREATY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, May 11.—The war labor board prepared a telegram today to the officers of the International Association of Mill, Pulp and Paper workers, demanding that the union abide by the board's award which is effective until the end of the war. This action resulted from a strike of employees of the International Paper company at Glenn Falls, N. Y., who demand increased wages.
The union has claimed that the war order is void because the war has ended. The board has refused to accept this claim and has ordered the workers to return to work or face increased penalties.

Peace Steps by Nations

ITALY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Rome, Sunday, May 11.—The discontent and irritation of the people are growing because of news from Paris that Italy is not likely to get what she claims on the eastern shore of the Adriatic. The Messaggero says: "President Wilson is obstinately opposed in his views regarding Fiume."
Other reasons for dissatisfaction are the Anglo-Franco-American alliance, from which Italy was excluded; the asserted project that the former Austro-Hungarian empire will be divided among the allies, although it is held to belong entirely to Italian aims; the clause in the treaty with Germany saying the Italian principal powers were to be consulted to ratify the treaty, thus, it is alleged, again excluding Italy, and the reported scheme to place Ethiopia under the protection of France.

AUSTRIA
Paris, May 12.—The peace treaty with Austria is nearing completion. Although it is not stated in the treaty, the new Austrian frontier is the one designated by the secret treaty of London giving Italy all the strategic heights and defensive passages. The Austrian peace delegation is expected Wednesday and work is being hastened on the quarters in St. Germain where the palace of Francis I is being put in order for the reception of the visitors. Used for years as a museum, it contains a wonderful collection of Gothic relics ranging from pre-historic times to the era of the Hapsburgs.
Two groups of nearby villas have been requisitioned for the Austrian and the Hungarian delegates. It is supposed to conduct the negotiations separately, but it is possible they will be carried on simultaneously.

Janesville and Rock County men in the 32nd division are now at Camp Mills, N. J., and will start for Grant, N. Y., Wednesday morning. There Thursday, May 16, they will arrive at 60 members of the Chamber of Commerce at the bi-weekly members council luncheon at the Grand Hotel at noon today. E. Clemons is chairman, will meet tomorrow morning at nine o'clock."
Mr. Matheson told of plans for the public holiday and celebration in honor of the returned service men to be held later in the summer when all the men are home.
"We are going to make it the biggest day in the city's history," he said.
The third plan of the committee is to raise $100,000 for the construction of a county recreation center, a lasting tribute to the men.
Amid applause, Frank J. Green, manager of the Chamber, read the final figures of the Victory loan campaign, laying stress on the great part Janesville played in the county's oversubscription.
E. J. Payne, Walla Walla, Wash., guest of J. G. Bridges, was introduced at the meeting.

SCOUTS IDEA OF YANKS' DOLLAR-GOD

PRESIDENT GIVES ADDRESS AT FRENCH ACADEMY.

SAYS HUMANITY IS BACK OF ALL

"Speaks Thoughts of Great People of Uter," He Declares.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris, Saturday, May 10.—President Wilson, in his address today to the French Academy of Moral and Political Sciences entered a strong disclaimer of the idea that the American people are largely materialists or dollar worshippers.
"I have had in recent months one very deep privilege," the president said, "I have been keenly aware that there have been times when the people of Europe have not understood the people of the United States. There have been too often supposed to have been devoted chiefly if not entirely to material enterprises. We have been supposed, in the common phrase, to worship the almighty dollar."
"We have accumulated wealth, sir, we have devoted ourselves to material enterprises with extraordinary success, but there has underlain all of that, all the time, a common sense of humanity and a common sympathy with the high principles of justice which have never grown dim in the field of enterprise; and it has been my very earnest desire for many months to interpret the peoples of the United States to the people of the world."
"I have not done more, sir. I have not uttered in public the capacity of my own private thoughts. I have uttered what I have known to be the thoughts of the great people whom I represent. I have been assured who have been assured from the time of our birth as a nation."
It was at this point that the president made his declaration that the American people, who came into the world consecrated to liberty, were ready to cast in their lot in common with the lot of those whose liberty is threatened by the same cause of liberty which is seen to be imperiled.

"This is the spirit of the people of the United States," he continued, "and they have been privileged to send two million men over here to tell us, it has been a great privilege not merely to tell you so in words, but to tell you so in men and material—the pouring out of their wealth and the offering of their blood."
Talks of Political Science.
President Wilson alluded to his studies in the field of political science and of the attempts he had made to put into the words of Jefferson the thought of a nation the attitude of a people toward public affairs.

"A great many of my colleagues in training exist in political science, as so many men in civil circles did, in German universities. I have been obliged at various times to read a great deal of German literature. I have been aware that the thought was as awkward as the phrase, that the thought was rooted in a fundamental misconception of the nature and of the political life of peoples.
"And it has been a portion of my effort to disengage the thought of American university teachers from the misguided instruction which they received on this side of the sea. Their American spirit anticipated most of them, as a matter of course, but the form of thought sometimes misled them. They by exposure of folly that the state as a thing which would ignore the individual, as a thing which was privileged to dominate the fortune of man by a sort of inherent and sacred authority."
Says All Should Be Heard.
"Now as a utter democrat, I have never been able to accept that view of the state. My view of the state is that it is to be a place where all have to be heard and listen to what I have to say, no matter how humble I am, and that each man has the right to have his voice heard and his counsel heeded, insofar as it is worthy of him."
"I have always been among them who believe that the greatest freedom of speech was the greatest safety because if a man is a fool the best thing to do is to encourage him to advertise the fact by speaking. It cannot be so easily discovered if you allow him to remain silent and look wise."

"I have always been among them who believe that the greatest freedom of speech was the greatest safety because if a man is a fool the best thing to do is to encourage him to advertise the fact by speaking. It cannot be so easily discovered if you allow him to remain silent and look wise."

jects, and the care of graves might be cited.

Since Germany's economic position prevents her by her own strength from providing the requisite guarantee, the delegation suggests that the delegations of the combatants might extend to the question of how far it would be possible on the part of the allied and associated governments to help Germany in the return of the cost to provide the prisoners with new outfits, underclothing, civilian suits and boots before their return.

The note concludes: "The expression of my most particular esteem."

Recognizes Labor Problems.
In his note dealing with labor questions Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau says that the German government agrees with the allied and associated governments that the greatest attention must be paid to these problems. "Internal peace and human progress depend on how these questions are handled," the note says. "The demand for social justice is repeatedly voiced by all lands only partly finds endorsement in principle in this section of the allied government's draft of the peace terms. These high demands have for the most part already been met in an admittedly exemplary fashion in the German empire."

Referring to the draft of an agreement on international labor compiled by the German Government and proposed by the German league of nations the note says:

"In order in the interest of all humanity to practice the acceptance of these principles the acceptance of the German delegation's proposal is certainly requisite. We consider it necessary that all states should join in this agreement if they do not belong to the league of nations."

Suggests Labor Congress.
"In order to assure the workers for whom these proposed improvements are destined, the principles in shaping the principles the German delegation considers it necessary to convocate representatives of the national organizations of the labor unions of all the contracting countries to a conference at Versailles, even during peace negotiations to deliberate and make decisions on international labor law."

"It considers it would be advantageous that the progress of this conference be based on decisions reached at the international trades union conference held at Berlin from February 5 to February 9, 1919. We possess a number of these decisions which have been accepted by the representatives of trades union organizations in Bohemia, Bulgaria, Denmark, Germany, Great Britain, France, Greece, Italy, Poland, Canada, Norway, Austria, Switzerland, Sweden, Spain and Hungary. We have been charged to this by the Union of Germany."

Madison, May 12.—The committee fight over proposed changes in the Wisconsin primary law will be staged Thursday afternoon when the "chill" bill comes up for consideration. The bill is to be introduced by Senator Wilcox, but does not repeal the primary election law. In many respects it follows out the suggestion of the committee on the subject. Women Stick to The Job to Successful End of All Drives

(By MRS. ABBIE HELMS.)
Continually on the job and pledged to see the thing through has been the women's committee which has taken part in the various drives during the war. Faithful, efficient, with no spectacular show but with business-like methods they have done what ever they were asked to do by the officials in charge of the various enterprises and have carried out each task to a successful conclusion.

Five liberty loan campaigns, three Red Cross drives, two war savings drives, and two housing campaigns have been some of the things which have been put across by the women's committee. This was in the time of the first liberty loan. Although the personnel has changed somewhat from time to time and the captains have also been changed by the women, the same organization which Mrs. McFord and Mrs. Levy got together at that time for the first loan. Started in May, 1917.

It seemed a great undertaking to the women to get into the game and make a house to house canvass, and they thought so little of their endeavor that really no separate account was kept of the subscriptions taken by the women. This was in May and June, 1917, later, when they gained confidence in themselves, strict account was kept of the amount of bonds sold by the women, and they are proud of the results of their efforts.

The second liberty loan was floated in the fall with Mrs. Ford head of the women's committee, and Mrs. Frank Spooner and Mrs. McNamara, chairmen of the first ward, with a committee of 12 members; Mrs. F. C. Grant in the second, with 10 members; Mrs. S. M. Smith and Mrs. J. Levy in the third, with 15 members; and Mrs. T. P. Burns in the fourth, with 10 members; and Mrs. T. P. Burns in the fifth, with six members on the committee.

They sold $75,000 worth. In the third liberty loan they raised $169,300; the fourth, the large sum of $236,850. In the last drive the figures were not available until passed by the executive committee, but they represent the large amount of $330,300.

135 Women Volunteer
The volunteer committee was composed of about 135 splendid workers, most of them trained by previous experience in their duties. Mrs. Ford voices the opinion that it was the best body of workers which was ever gotten together, and they could put over any enterprise on which methods in all departments and speed and accuracy in accomplishing the work has been the rule.

The new system of leaving part of the work to the lieutenants has been of great help in making for efficiency in some of the war drives. Mrs. Ford herself has put in a solid three weeks of her time, as has also Mrs. Margaret O'Brien, and their faithful work in the office has contributed much to the success of the enterprise. Miss Esther Buggs has been the able office assistant.

The captains for this drive included: First ward, Mrs. James Denniston; Second, Mrs. Francis Grant; Third, Mrs. J. J. Dulin; Fourth, Mrs. J. J. Dulin; Fifth, Mrs. J. J. Dulin. The Third has always been the banner ward. This year it was inflated to the fifth and sixth wards with large amounts, but they were still unable to reach the subscriptions secured by the Third ward which totalled $120,750. The Second ward ran next with $60,950. The First ward next with $11,900. The Fourth ward next with $45,150, and the Fifth last with $43,150. Splendid work was done by all the teams, and the experience gained in the other drives made the task much easier, so that it was completed without extra strain on the part of the workers.

Canvass Schools.
Mrs. Capelle and Mrs. Matheson have canvassed the schools and reported large sales. Evelyn Kuyvelage sold bonds at the St. Joseph convent and school, and Mrs. Frank Mout at the Mercy hospital. Mrs. J. J. Dulin canvassed at the Golden Eagle, and Mrs. P. Koest at the Post Office. Mrs. J. J. Dulin, who has been in the emergency call which was issued on account of war time need. Then came the two Christmas roll calls which were put on for the yearly dues for members.

Two drives for war savings stamps were put on in compliance with the appeal to the government for the special drives, and were put over by the women's committee. The work of the women in the two housing campaigns was purely a local matter and was undertaken in response to appeals for aid from the Chamber of Commerce, in what seemed to them a crisis in civic affairs.

Mrs. E. P. Woods took charge of the first drive, using the data of Mrs. Ford in arranging the work. Mrs. Ford in arranging the work, which was made necessary by new regulations made by the government in collecting data. Mrs. Ford again took the chairmanship of the work.

REV. EWING'S LETTERS DEPICT FRENCH SCENES

Interesting glimpses of life in the cities in France where the soldiers are gathered were given to members of the "Whitewater club" Saturday at their meeting at the home of Mrs. E. D. Roberts, by Mrs. C. E. Weirick in a paper compiled from letters received from Rev. C. E. Ewing. It contained many vivid pictures of conditions in various places which he had visited. Especially interesting was the description given of the conditions in the cities of the A. E. F. forces in France. It comprises a whole camp, and employs 2000 men and 500 English women. It is located at Tours. Good care of many scenes helped to make the story more complete.

Mrs. Grace Craig gave a magazine article by Richard Spaulden entitled, "The Aftermath of the Back Street," which took up the many intricacies of the servant problem. The solution was put up to the women, as the author said they had created the question, and it was up to them to solve it.

Mrs. Charles Myhr, Beloit, an honorary member of the club was a guest for the afternoon. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Mesdames H. D. Murdock and C. A. Sanborn.

OLDEST DOWNTOWN
LANDMARK WILL BE
RAZED DURING WEEK

Janesville's oldest remaining landmark in the downtown district, the red brick house located just west of the Christian church on West Milwaukee street, will be razed to make way for a more modern building to be used for business purposes.

The house, which according to old residents, was erected about 75 years ago, is the oldest building in the business district of this city today. The house was built by Dr. Mitchell and was one of the first brick houses to be built in Janesville.

Despite the growth of the city the house has stayed on its first site with all sides, the house being built on all sides. The house has been predicted that the red brick house was to go to make room for more modern buildings but it still stayed on.

Claude Fredendall, owner of the Service Garage on West Milwaukee street purchased the building last week and announced that it would be razed and an up to date garage erected. The work of razing the house will start in a few days.

PHILIPP EXPECTED TO SIGN RECALL BILL

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)
Madison, May 12.—That Gov. Philipp will sign the new Coo bill provided that the legislature may recall an appointive official is the belief among members of the legislature. All of Gov. Philipp's supporters are very firm in the belief that he will sign the bill through, which is taken as an indication that the executive intends to let the measure pass. This bill by Coo provides that a majority of the members elected may remove an appointive official, when such removal is deemed to be in the best interests of the public service.

The bill does not materially differ from the C. E. Hanson bill, which passed both houses, but was vetoed by the governor. It is now claimed that in all probability the bill might not have been elected, had it not been that the governor felt that the senate was trying to get him to sign the measure before it confirmed C. D. Jackson, as railroad commissioner.

Finds Camouflage Bomb
Appleton, May 12.—An Appleton doctor thought he was one of the victims of the bomb outrages going on throughout the country when he recently found a mysterious package on his desk. Instead of it being a letter, he found a distinct ticking. Dr. J. P. Morneau picked it up without suspicion, but the ticking was too much and he put in a hurried call to the police. Chief Trim arrived with other officers and after carrying the "bomb" across the street and pouring water in it, carefully opened the package to discover a large cast iron pipe. When with a clear box at one end. When entrance was forced, a cheap dollar alarm clock was found near the open end, and the remainder—no doubt a deadly T. N. T. bomb with a complex detonator arrangement, just plain sawdust.

NAVAL FLIERS GET FIXED UP FOR "GO";
NOT TO START TODAY

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Trepassey, N. F., May 12.—The American navy's hydro-airplanes will get out on their trans-Atlantic flight carrying, if possible, crews of six men instead of five, and with extra personnel aboard. Commander John H. Towers, chief of the expedition, announced today in a statement detailing precautionary measures.

The extra men and spare parts, together with a maximum supply of petrol, would bring the weight of each plane to 28,800 pounds, the commander said, which might prove more than the 1,600 horsepower engines could lift from the water. In this event, he added, the craft after a surface cruise in the harbor, would "taxi" back to the mother ship, discharge and drain off her excess fuel, reducing the weight to 28,000 pounds, the official full load.

Crews Are Enlarged.
The proposed enlargement of the crews and equipment were the result of experience gained in the flight from Halifax when the NC-2, flagship of the division, was delayed and forced to return to port.

The planes were fitted with belts for the mechanics so that motor repairs could be made in mid-air.

There are many icebergs in the ocean field immediately ahead of the fliers and Commander Towers said, they were so numerous that the sea in places looked from his vantage point like a pasture dotted with grazing sheep.

NC-4 Still Delayed.
Chatham, Mass., May 12.—Weather conditions continued unfavorable today for the resumption of the flight of the hydro-airplane NC-4 to Halifax and Trepassey, N. F. The NC-4 was obliged to abandon the flight from Rockaway to Halifax last week because of engine trouble. Commander Read hopes to reach Newfoundland before the NC-1 and NC-3 begin their flight to the Azores.

"That is the New Silhouette"

a saleswoman explained to the attractive woman trying on a new spring suit. Then she added consolingly as the customer regarded herself in the mirror with some doubt—"You'll get used to it, and you'll really like it, too."

Prophetic words! For when six or seven new models had been tried on, creations of the most distinguished dress artists, she was quite won over.

The new silhouette is—oh, very well—wonderfully youthful. There are long, close-fitting sleeves, some flowing at the wrist, or broadening from the elbow, with coats, some short, some long, mostly straight in effect. A few have belts—straight cut—waistcoats, square and pointed, cunningly showing the line of the figure from arm to waist; and skirts, well, they are getting shorter—that is, the latest models, and they show, too, over the hips a perfectly corseted form. These styles more than ever before need a specific foundation—a good corset—properly fitted like the Redfern will be very satisfactory.

Vacation Travel

The United States Railroad Administration
Removes all Restrictions

ONE year ago, under the pressure of war necessities, the public was requested to refrain from all unnecessary travel, and under the stress of war conditions, the public was necessarily subjected to a great deal of inconvenience when it did have to travel.

Now the war necessity is passed and it is the settled policy of the Railroad Administration to do everything reasonably within its power to facilitate passenger travel and to make it more attractive.

In furtherance of this policy, the Railroad Administration is entering upon a moderate program of advertising, to remind the people of the extraordinary opportunities for sight-seeing and for pleasure-seeking which our country affords—the National Parks, the seashores, the lakes, the mountains, the woods, and the many places of historic interest.

The vacation season is approaching, and the time is at hand to plan for a change of scene, for rest and recreation. It will be the effort of the Railroad Administration to aid in such planning and to make your travel arrangements convenient and satisfying.

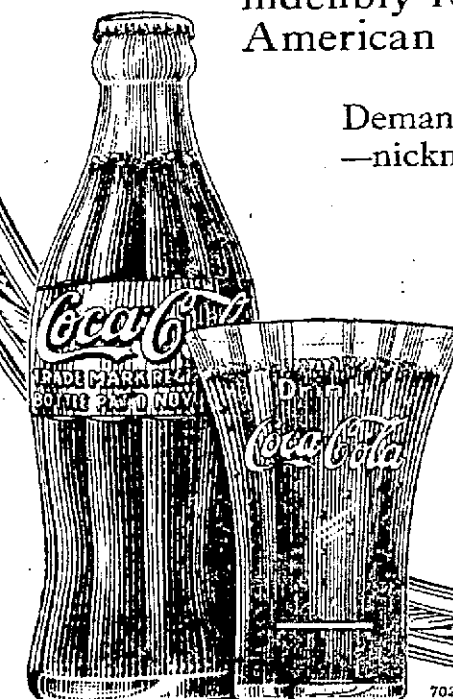

The staff of the United States Railroad Administration will be glad to furnish illustrated booklets and provide necessary information as to fares, train service, etc. Such information may be obtained from the local Ticket Agent or the nearest Consolidated Ticket Office, or by addressing the Official Travel Information Bureau at 143 Liberty Street, New York; or 646 Transportation Building, Chicago; or 602 Healy Building, Atlanta, Georgia.

Every official and employee of the United States Railroad Administration is a public servant. Call on them freely.

Washington.—George N. Peck, chairman of the department of conservation, is following a controversy over steel prices declared the public "would demand an explanation of the wreckage by the absence of a single iron dividend of a plan to reduce the cost of living."

MASHING CREW GATHER IN SEX; FIVE PAY HEAVILY

The mashing crew in Janesville was dealt a heavy blow by the police over the weekend and with Municipal Judge Harry L. Maxfield sending across the backlot parking this morning. Six young men were arrested for molesting and improperly accosting members of the opposite sex. Realization that they would have to take into custody girls and women to eradicate the evil was forcibly presented to the department by the stories of two of the young men. With them it was a case of being "vamped."

Believing that the slapping on of heavy fines for the first offenders will serve as a warning to others, Judge Maxfield was severe today. It cost all the way from $10.00 up to $27.00 for members of the sextet to secure their freedom.

William Smith from Camp Grant told the court there were lots of boys of getting acquainted with girls and it happened to be only the way one looked at it as to the nature of the meeting being right or wrong. He was ordered to elucidate.

One of the boys and the girl who were acquainted with the judge, Smith said he was not, just company. He pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct under a city ordinance, after several phases of the warrant were struck out with the consent of City Attorney Roger G. Cunningham. Such was the case with the remaining five. They would plead guilty to improperly accosting women.

John Peckstein, a local garage employee, and F. Culver drew the heaviest fines for flirting, $25 with costs which brought the total up to $27.40. They followed and stopped the girls and the police arrested them. While the officer was busy with the young men the girls got away.

George Uhrman, Milwaukee, a discharged soldier in uniform, admitted he did not care to instill European customs of morals and of intimacy in the states when he faced the bench, but declared he was the one accosted by women and that he was not in the mood to fight. His partner, Louis Severson, also a soldier told a similar story about being winked and ogled at and motioned to come along by a couple of youthful females. He was arrested at the station as they were waiting for a car to take them to Rockford. Because they did follow the wig-wag instructions and because a policeman stepped up and asked if they knew the fellows, Uhrman said they were arrested. The girls got away. Uhrman and Severson each left $10.00 for fines.

Louis Ragan, the sixth taken on disorderly conduct charges, was not in court but his counsel appeared and had the appearance set for later this week.

EXAMINE MRS. BRADLEY AS TO HER SANITY

Mrs. Helen Bradley, arrested Friday night by the police for not properly accosting members of the opposite sex and who on Saturday morning promised to leave town that night providing no up court sentence was imposed, was arrested again Saturday. She was again held on a disorderly conduct charge. Because of her strange actions she was not brought into court this morning. It is the belief of the judge and the District Attorney Stanley C. Dunwiddie was in Beloit this morning the case was held open. Plans are to have her examined for insanity.

Mrs. Minnie Joyce, arrested by Patrolman Wooster, on disorderly conduct charge, the only woman besides Mrs. Bradley occupying a cell at the station for the weekend, had her examination at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Rock county wound up the last Liberty loan campaign Saturday in a blaze of glory. The oversubscription totals $360,100, according to final figures announced today at campaign headquarters.

Janesville's oversubscription was $37,150. Because of the volunteer subscriptions of local citizens no subscriptions were taken from banks of the city, no special drive was required, and no "strong arm" methods were necessary. The subscription in the Janesville banking district was $1,131,550, or 46 percent of the quota for the county.

The glorious success of the campaign in the county goes to make up another page of Rock county's wonderful war record. Eight hundred workers were enlisted in the county canvass and to them is due the credit for finishing the job.

The campaign was conducted under the auspices of the members council of the Chamber of Commerce, P. B. Fug, chairman. He was assisted by E. J. (Bert) Green, manager of the Chamber. These executive committee in addition to the chairman and his assistant, included: Mrs. Herbert Ford, C. A. Muggleton, J. L. Wilcox, A. W. Meyer, and William McViear.

Janesville, in addition, was county headquarters. County Chairman H. A. Moehle, and his assistant, Mr. Green, conducted the detail of the campaign in the county was under his direction.

The report of the factory division under the direction of J. L. Wilcox, assisted by E. J. (Bert) Green, establishes a record for the campaign.

The following statement was made this morning by Mr. Buss:

"Janesville, through the devotion to duty of its citizens, has finished the job in an ostensible manner. It is my privilege to express to all those who gave of their time the sincere appreciation of the committee. There are those who subscribed there must be a feeling of great satisfaction of having rendered a service to the nation. This city, in a telling manner, has just given evidence of its unbounded loyalty and affection to and for America."

TO DECIDE OWNERS' RIVER BANK RIGHT

Whether owners of property on the banks of Rock river have the right to fill in portions of his shore-land with earth to straighten the boundaries of their land will be determined today in a complaint charging a violation of an injunction placed on owners of the land four years ago is brought before Judge Grimm in the circuit court on May 22.

Complaints in two actions brought to reach a decision in the matter are the Water Power Company, claiming damages amounting to $1,000 resulting from filling done by Frank Kline, and Ed. Meyer and George Banker, the latter two employees of Edward Dranigan, who owns property on the north side of Portland avenue bridge, Beloit.

Mr. Branigan asserts that about 100 loads of filling had been dumped along his property. The water power company bases its claim for damages on the allegation that such filling has resulted in a shrinkage of the company's pondage and water rights.

INVESTIGATE WIDTH OF FREMONT STREET

Considerable discussion has arisen as to whether Fremont street is laid out to be three or four rods in width. Directors of housing corporation at a special meeting Saturday night devoted much time to discussing the question and concluded by requesting the city engineer, Roger Cunningham, to make an investigation. Mr. Cunningham spent today in the register of deeds office tracing the platting of that street.

If the street was laid out to be only a three rod thoroughfare, then plans for laying water and sewage mains will be necessarily changed but should be that it is legally a four-rod street it will be necessary for property owners to remove some buildings.

The board of directors is inclined to believe that the street was laid out four rods in width.

It was also decided at the directors' meeting to issue a call for payment of the second installment of corporation stock, payable June 1.

HOTEL CLERK FOILS BAR-ROOM THIEVES

An attempt to rifle the cash register of the Hotel London bar early Sunday morning was blocked by the unexpected entrance of the night clerk. The intruders, a soldier and a civilian, escaped through the rear door.

Shortly before six o'clock Sunday morning the night clerk started up stairs to call the day clerk. On his return, when he reached the second floor, he heard someone walking stealthily about in the saloon below.

He made his way down the stairs and quickly unlocking the door to the bar entered the men, who evidently heard his approach, were leaving by the rear door. He started to give chase but the men disappeared in the alley in the rear of the hotel.

Frank Smith, owner of the hotel and saloon reported to the police that nothing was missing, although the cash register, which was locked, had been badly damaged.

The defendant, contented that she did not assist the government as an institution but that she referred to the responsible officials of the government. In her appeal, it is charged that the government was permitted to introduce improper evidence at the trial. Miss Seymour Stedman, Chicago, is counsel for Mrs. Stokes."

BELOIT GIRLS GIVE PLEASING CONCERT

An enjoyable program of vocal and instrumental music was given at the Federated church last evening in place of the evening service by the Beloit College Girls Glee club. The selections were of high class, and sympathetically presented by the young women who won the interest of the audience from the start by their simple direct manner.

The numbers were of varied character and ranged from college songs to Italian, Indian and negro melodies. The group sang by the glee club included "The Rose," with the solo sung by Miss Alice Emery and "Raisa the Song," and "All Hail to Old Beloit."

Of modern composers "The Plantation Love Song" and "Will of the Wisp" were given. Of American folk songs, "Deep River," and "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water" were sung.

Two Italian folk songs were sung, "Santa Lucia," and "Neapolitan Serenade." The program closed with a group of American patriotic songs.

Two soprano solos were sung by Miss Alice Emery, Miss Lucile Saris with notes sweet and clear as a bird, and with apparently no little effort, gave a whistling number "Ave Maria," and responded to repeated encores.

Miss Blanch Howard gave a reading of a fanciful poem by Edwin Arnold, entitled "To a Pair of Slippers in an Egyptian Museum." The quaint humor of the selection was well brought out. Much of the smooth and even execution of the program was due to the talent of the director, Mrs. James Steeper, who also contributed cello numbers. Noticeably effective was it in a duet rendered by Alice Emery and Lois Howard, with the obligato played on the cello. The pianist, Miss Marion Crosby, played the accompaniments and also gave a piano solo. The personnel of the organization included 20 members, of whom Alice Emery is president; Marion Crosby, secretary, and Lois Howard, business manager.

Outlaw Maid To Be Myers

ALICE MAY CURLEY, IN "ROBIN HOOD."

Not the least unimportant roles in "Robin Hood," which comes to the Myers theatre, Tuesday night, are those played by the members of the outlaw band that aid the leader in relieving the rich of their riches.

One of the members of the band is Miss Alice May Curley who is good to look upon and has a good voice. The others are equally as attractive but they failed to send their photos so they cannot be shown here.

THE WISHING PLANE

"We mustn't forget that Jack was the one who discovered the treasure," said Captain Bold, when he and Captain Brave and Ladydear and Jack went down into the ocean and found the chest."

and Jane and the crew of the submarine gathered together to decide how they would divide the riches found under the sea.

Brave and Ladydear and you, and your submarine, Captain Bold," said Jack. "I never would have been able to go down into the ocean and find the chest."

So it was finally decided that the treasure would be equally divided. Captain Bold said it that Jane got the great necklace of pearls she had wished for her mother and the prettiest diamond bracelet to give Ladydear and the rings and gold chain she wanted and many more things besides. All the jewels Jack got he had plenty of gold pieces—enough, in fact, to buy a great many submarines and airplanes if he cared to.

For safekeeping, all the things that Jack and Jane and Ladydear and Captain Brave got were placed in a strong-box that Captain Bold had on the submarine. The men on the submarine all put theirs in hiding places of their own. A more happy crew of men couldn't be found. When Jack and Jane heard them tell of all the things they were going to do for their children, both were awfully glad the treasure had been discovered.

Jack and Jane could hardly sleep that night. Jack dreamed about pirates and fairy princesses and queens floated around in Jane's little head when she tried to sleep.

We might as well tell you that everybody had all sorts of wonderful happy dreams.

Next morning Captain Brave greeted everybody with the announcement that he had received a wireless message from Dr. Cheer, an old friend, asking him to visit the doctor's home at Beautiful Island.

"Where is Beautiful Island, and tell us all about it, won't you, please?"

exclaimed Jack and Jane. "Well, now, Beautiful Island is in the middle of the ocean hundreds of miles south of here," said Captain Brave. "It is called Beautiful Island because it is covered over with all kinds of the loveliest flowers and plants in the world. It is warm and sunny there every minute. Dr. Cheer went there to live so he could spend all the time studying these flowers."

"And are we going?" asked the children. "We certainly are," said Captain Brave, "and we are going to have Captain Bold go along in his submarine."

Captain Bold was more than glad to go, and so it was arranged that Captain Brave and Jack would hurry ahead in the airplane to Dr. Cheer's home and help him get ready to entertain Ladydear and Jane and Captain Bold and his men.

Nobody had the least idea when Captain Brave and Jack waved them good-bye what a fright they would have before all were together again.

A CHANCE TO LIVE

"Sure it's a fine country," Rosie said. "My father wasn't allowed to keep a store in Russia where we lived. He's got two of them here—one on First avenue and one on Third. I'm going to have one of them, too. I told you, when I'm in that school, sure it's a fine country."

And so Annie built up the structure of her life. She was growing up and ought to be graduated from elementary school. There was to be a white dress with a sash and hair ribbon, and now shoes. Her father had promised her a gold ring with rubies, like one they had admired in a jeweler's window. If her examination papers averaged among the highest in her class, Optimistic Jim Hargan even talked of sending Annie to high school. Why not? She could be a teacher, perhaps.

"But I want to be a stenographer and a typewriter like Aunt Maggie, and have an office and go out to lunch at a restaurant, and come home in a crowd every night," submitted Annie, unswept from her early dream.

"Why not be a teacher of stenography and typewriters?" suggested Aunt Maggie. Aunt Margaret Bailey had bigger ambitions for Annie than to be a stenographer. "Go to high school first, then to business college. You can't be too well grounded," she added wistfully. "If you want to make a big salary these days, you must begin right. There weren't many business women when I started. They're getting thick as hops now."

Annie's mother inclined toward the steady, ideal, too. Annie was not adverse to it, if it meant having a nice room and nice clothes and money to do things with—things for her mother and little sister and the baby, in case her father's dreams of fortune shouldn't come true. So Annie worked up for the exams, and was pretty happy about everything.

Then, out of a clear sky the bolt descended.

Annie's father did not come home one night from work. A man instead, hat held nervously in hands, and told Mrs. Hargan there had been an accident at the warehouse where Jim Hargan was employed. A fire. Jim Hargan was determined to save the ledgers and journals at which he worked at the high desk in the office. The rheumatism he had suffered from a few years before had affected the heart, it seemed. The man finished his hard task in a few words as possible.

Annie's mother went right down on the floor, first on her knees, then sort of crumpled together in a heap.

"In a frenzy of terror and foreboding, Annie asked questions of everybody at once. No one answered. Neighbors came in. Aunt Margaret was sent for. Everything was strange and terrible. Annie and her small sister and the baby, who was not really a baby any longer but a fat, lusty boy of four, spent the night with the family next door."

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl about 25 years old and have kept company with a very fine fellow for two years. We are engaged to be married. I want to get married next June and I am willing to put up with all kinds of inconveniences in order to get married. We both have money and so that will make no difference. He wants to start business first or else get a home and settle down. Kindly advise me.

SUBSCRIBER.

I should judge from your letter that you want advice about marrying in June. Personally I do not believe in long engagements. The late hours, which usually accompany engagements, are bad for both parties. From the standpoint of the two drifting apart, however, a long engagement is a good thing because there is a great deal of love in waiting to die. It is best to know before marriage.

As long as you have enough money to live comfortably, I see no reason why you should not marry in June. Perhaps you do not realize what a great deal of money it takes to live comfortably and your fiance does. In this case he should not be persuaded to assume responsibilities which will be too heavy.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am very forgetful and do not have lessons at all. What can I do to remember better? I try to get my mind on it, but can't. Please give me a little advice.

There are various books on memory training. If I were you I would read on this subject. You will get many helpful suggestions. Your trouble is

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO DR. BRADY, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE.

CONFIDENCE

Admirable is the pertinacity of the veterinarian who manages to cure a sick mule that has no faith in either the man or his medicine.

Confidence is a factor of ponderable weight in the practice of the art of healing—any and every "school."

Worry is a homeopathic or attenuated dose of fear, and fear, as everybody knows, is a powerful depressant of the circulation and nervous system. It is fear that paralyzes the animal that is "churned" by a snake; it is fear that "strikes at the heart" of a child frightened by a monster or fancied apparition of threat, predisposing to shock or collapse. It is a harmful emotion. There is no doubt that a susceptible individual might be actually "frightened to death."

If you lack confidence in your doctor, he has regular, homeopathic, electric, osteopathic or the creator of his own peculiar theory, you are likely to worry more about your prospects than you would if you had confidence in the doctor. Your lack of confidence, therefore, does you harm.

Confidence is a double-edged influence. The patient must have confidence in his doctor; the doctor must have confidence in his patient. More, the doctor must have confidence in his patient's nature, and the patient must have confidence in the doctor's nature.

Lots and lots of people who would not for the world pick one's pockets are, nevertheless, untrustworthy. They attempt in a thousand little ways to deceive the doctor, and nearly always he is sooner or later aware of the deception. They are not frank with him, yet they expect him to be frank with them. As it is these very people who are constantly complaining about medical ethics and bewail the unsatisfactory service the physician renders.

A surprising number of patients deliberately endeavor to distort or misrepresent important facts of the medical history in the doctor's consulting room, where one would think an intelligent person ought to be quite frank and honest, since his own welfare is concerned. Illustrative of the great temptation to misrepresent in this way is the familiar notation in the history book, that "Patient denies having had venereal disease" or "Patient declares he has never used whiskey as a beverage." Isn't it curious that these notations are not written "Patient never has had venereal disease" or "Patient has always been a teetotaler?"

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

FOODS AND FOOD VALUES

Please tell me where I can obtain information about the proportions of protein, fat and carbohydrates needed for the average person each day and a list of the various articles of food commonly used, showing the amounts of these different food elements in each food. (F. W. G.)

ANSWER: Two or three ounces of protein, three ounces of fat, and twelve to twenty ounces of carbohydrates are essential in a day's ration. For ten cents in coin, sent to the Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., Sup't. of Documents, you can obtain a copy of a free bulletin entitled "American Food Materials," Bulletin 28, Revised Edition, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, which gives the lists desired.

What is that?

One Get More Happiness for More Money II—

Would you be interested in knowing how I answered that question for myself? Yes, I am. Yes, if you are sure to plan your expenditures so to buy the most important thing of all with your money.

Why, peace of mind, of course. I have a friend whose income has risen from one thousand to twenty thousand in the last few years. Yes, he is perfectly happy. His expenditures kept pace with that rise that often I find him worrying over money mat-for these outing suits, coats and separate skirts. The short topcoat is being revived and in many instances it takes the place of the sweater-coat because the latter has grown much too elaborate and costly to remain in the real sports clothes wardrobe.

The costumes pictured are ideal for spring motoring trips, and picnic outings. The one on the left is a combination of forest browns and greens. The sport coat is brown and white checked duvetyne with champagne colored collar and cuffs and the skirt shades. A brown rough street sailor completes the outfit. The suit at the right makes a most attractive outing suit. Brown and blue checked velvet is simply cut and made plaid with a belt, coat and patch pockets and buttons for trimming. The hat is tan silk braided in blue straw which blends nicely with the suit. Heeled brown oxford and the final practical touch needed.

The restaurant and bridge party have not claimed the most attractive costumes this year. The out-of-doors sports suits are just as stunning and are certainly a rival for first place in midlady's favor. Plaid and checked wear are things more in one season and so I want an advanced style.

VOGUE.

Vests are very good this season, as you have probably noticed. They will also be worn next year because most people do not discard their garments after one season. If I were you, however, I would not have the suit made so very popular, fashion takes another turn. If your suit is of more conventional design you will be sure of its style for another year.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) We are two girls 18 years of age and have been going with two fellows. One is 21 and the other 28. Are these fellows too old for us?

(2) We are deeply in love with these boys. How can we find out if they return our affection? If they return our affection, why don't they call us pet names?

AUBURN TWINS.

(1) The young man of 21 is not too old, but the other young man is too old for girls of your age.

(2) If the young men return your affection, they will make it evident by their actions and their speech. All men do not show their affection by the use of "pet" names.

RECIPES FOR A DAY.

Breakfast: Four pounds of "heel pieces" without bone. Brown the meat and then add a small amount of boiling water and cook slowly in a closely covered dish until tender. Vegetables may be cooked with the meat the latter part of the cooking. These should be used in different combinations to give variety. Pieces from the rump or round may be prepared in the same manner, but are more expensive, and if the proper care is given and the necessary time is allowed, the "heel" piece with vegetables will make a most palatable meal.

Campagna Italiana.—Cut in half slices and trim the crust. Cut in half and toast. Then spread with a mixture prepared as follows. Place on a plate: One tablespoonful of butter, one tablespoonful of salad oil, one teaspoonful of paprika, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of grated onion.

Work to a smooth paste and then spread on the prepared toast. Now lay on the toast sardines. Garnish with threads of pimento cut from canned pimentos. Pour over all one

MOTHERHOOD PAID TENDER TRIBUTE BY REV. PIERSON

Large audiences were in attendance at the churches yesterday morning to take part in the commemoration of Mothers' day. Sermons preached along the theme, special appropriate music, and spring flowers helped to make it a memorable day.

At the Baptist church the pastor, Rev. Raymond G. Pierson, gave a tender tribute to motherhood, in an address wherein he showed the responsibility and privileges of the relationship as well as its beauty and power.

A poem quoted at the beginning of his address, had as its central thought that God wished to give the sweetest thing in His power to the world, so He moved the gates of heaven apart, and gave a mother.

The mother was likened as being the greatest hero in the world, enduring all kinds of trouble and heartache for the sake of her children. Some of the splendid mothers of history were mentioned.

Old-fashioned Mother mentioned. The type of old fashioned mother, who loved and welcomed the children into the home, and saw in them potential possibilities of greatness, was praised. He thought that the work of instruction given in the home was one of the most inspiring tasks, as it was a marvelous thing to see character developing and expanding under one's tuition.

He felt that the great things of life should be learned from the parents instead of being picked up on the streets, and that warnings of some of life's dangers should be given there. Young girls also should be given training in ways of housekeeping so as to be efficient in the household, when the time comes," he thought.

Dismissing the "Wild" Night. The "wild" Saturday nights discussed recently in the papers, and the number of youths sent to reform school showed that there had been a lack of home training somewhere, it was said.

"Every true mother and father," he said, "wants his or her boy or girl to be farther along life's road, and accomplish greater things than he or she did. A single inspiration and influence comes from the mother to her child which merits the tribute of Lincoln when he said: "All that I am, or hope to be, I owe to my angel mother."

The speaker dwelt on the fact that back of every good and great man there was the influence of a good home, and of a mother who believed in him.

"The mother has a high privilege of abiding joy," he said, "in that she is a partner with God in the great work of the future."

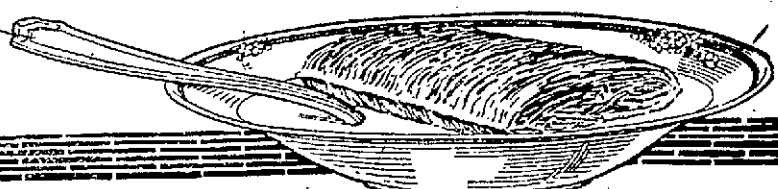

A solo, "Mother," was sung by Mrs. Alice Thomas, and an anthem sung by the choir, "The Sun Shall No More Go Down," by Brown.

The scripture lesson as read by the pastor included scenes in the life of Christ.

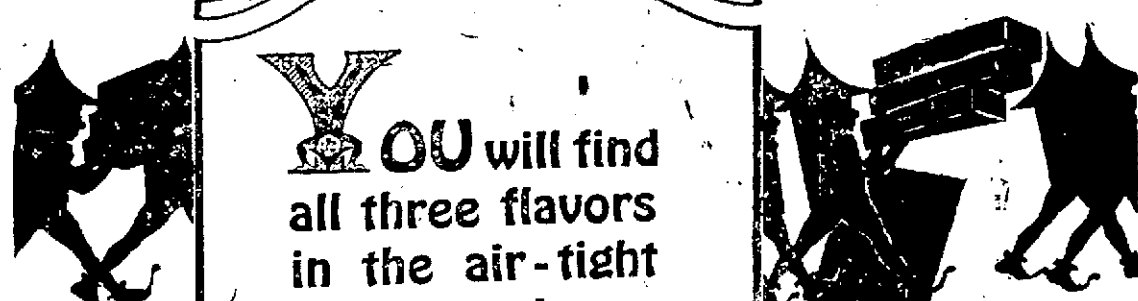

What They Left Behind. We know of a lot of men who didn't leave much behind them in the way of actual cash accumulated but they did leave families rich in the memories of the happiness they had while they were alive.

If you can't digest food you get no nutriment from it. Shredded Wheat is the whole wheat made digestible by steam-cooking, shredding and baking. Many thrive on it who cannot digest anything else. CHAPTER V.

Boroday had used his day's freedom to warn the band and to make plans for regaining his freedom. Of money he had none. What he had made under old Hilary's leadership had gone back to Russia, dollar for dollar. He had financed part of the Kiev defense of the Jews, had saved Prince Ovarsky from Siberia. There were other things. Money would save Boroday. And there was practically no money.

By unanimous consent they kept the news of his arrest from Elinor. It was Talbot who planned the country club coup. The Russian was in jail then, on a trumped-up charge. Old Hilary dead and Boroday in jail—there was no one to advise caution.

"Boroday III!" Elinor exclaimed. They were accounting for his absence from her Saturday-night dinner. "Why, then he should be here, where he can be cared for."

"We told him that," Lethbridge was always readiest with his tongue. "But he's not sick enough to need much, and he's decently disagreeable when he's laid up."

Elinor was a little hurt. In the act, after dinner, they planned the robbery. Where old Hilary would have taken a month to think and plan, they took minutes. There was a ball at the club that night, the last of the waning country-club season. The entrance to the grounds was a mile from the clubhouse—two iron gates standing upon between pillars, and dense shrubbery all about. Talbot would wreck his car there, driving into one of the gates. That would require each departing car to slow down, probably to stop.

The arrangement was that Talbot walk up to the club, and establish an alibi and his innocence by telephoning to a city garage for help. The rest

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow skin, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, head-aches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

"I'm sorry Petey dear, but the new girl can't understand very well and dinner's about two hours late."

"I'm afraid of her—you do it."

"I help me—I will!"

"She hasn't seen me yet so I'll tell her I'm a plain clothes cop and scare her out of the house."

"You cop?—Get 'er out—!!! THE MISSUS SHE SAY NO COPS TO HANG AROUND!"

was left to Huff and Lethbridge. A quarter of a mile away across the golf links, they would have a car in which to make their getaway.

Lethbridge was only lukewarm.

"We'll get a lot of jewelry," he objected. "What we need is money."

But Talbot was sure the loot would include money.

It was rather cleverly planned.

From the vault Huff brought up a fine chain studded with spikes. Stretched across the road outside the entrance, it meant that every car passing over it would limp along on flat tires. It meant time to the bandits.

Huff and Lethbridge, who had left their car in a thicket over the hill, went first. Talbot followed soon, in his gray car.

"Good luck, boys," said Elinor in echo of her father, from her garden, and went back into the house to watch the clock. At one, or a little sooner—the shimmer dances were early ones—she was to be in her garden again. The loot would be thrown over the wall.

She was there much earlier, hands cold, lips shivering with nervousness. Always old Hilary had done these things. She was profoundly frightened.

Ward, walking rapidly home from the club, saw her there, a little after midnight. There was a young moon, and at first he thought he must be mistaken. Then, when he was sure of her, he ran up the shallow steps. The glances that was over him rang out in his deep voice.

"So now I have your secret," he said gaily. "Like all the other fairies, you are only to be seen in the moonlight!"

"In the daylight," said Elinor, trying to smile. "I frequent the woodlands, and miss my most agreeable visitor—my only visitor." She corrected herself.

Her hand was ice in his.

"You are cold!"

"Really, no."

There was a minute's pause. They had no common ground between them. Ward, who dreamed of her eyes, and took long walks up the hill in the mere hope of seeing her in her garden, found himself dumb, now that he stood before her. He had meant to be stoic, impersonal, to run in, say a cheerful "good night" to her, and be off. But face to face, with the dark house looming over them, he plunged into the thing nearest his heart.

"Are you still so alone?"

"I am the servant."

"I think of you often. One of my windows faces this way, and I can see a light burning very late."

"I read at night. I do not sleep well. But you—you are up late, also."

"Ah!" He bent a little toward her in his eagerness. "You know that? You know my window?"

"Yes, I watch it very often."

It was well for Walter Huff, crouched in the shrubbery at the country club, eyes glittering, automatic revolver in hand, that he did not hear the thrill in Ward's voice that night in Elinor's garden, or her soft reply.

Many things cried for utterance in Ward; his pitiful sense of the girl's loneliness, a yearning desire to comfort her, to be near her—even more that magic night, a mad longing to hold out his arms and coax her into them, as one might coax some shy creature of the woods.

But Elinor was suddenly aloof and distant again. At any time now a car would come wildly down the hill, and toss at her feet its defiance of law and ownership. What had she and this man before her in common? The thrill was in his voice now, but how quickly it would turn to loathing when he knew! She put out her cold hand, and he took it.

"I am going in now. Good night, and thank you for stopping."

Ward found himself dismissed, and rather dazed, went down the steps to the road. But one thing he carried with him down the hill that night: "I watch your window very often."

The reverend Mr. Ward left his light on all of that night, so fearful was he that she might look for it, and not find it.

And while it burned, under the very shadow of Saint Jude's once more the vault in the basement room at the hall swung open to Elinor's practiced fingers.

The village rang with the news of the outrage the next day. No one had been hurt, but jewels of large value had been taken.

To Huff and the others, the raid had been practically a failure. There had been less than a thousand dollars in money—not enough to begin negotiations for Boroday's freedom. It began to look as though the dangerous business of selling some of Elinor's jewels would have to be resorted to. Lethbridge was willing to undertake it, trying London first and then Paris.

Elinor offered all the diamonds. If she must keep a part, she would keep the pearls. Talbot sorted out the stones to be sold, but left them with her for safety. She had never cared for her jewels. They were not half so lovely as her flowers—and she put see that; but suppose the horse starts at a quarter to what I get then?"

Speaking at a political meeting Congressman Allen T. Broadway, Massachusetts, referred to war time economy and related this little anecdote:

One afternoon a man went into a restaurant and selected an Irish stew from the bill of fare. Soon the dish was placed before him, and after giving it a critical glance he removed his coat, then his vest and then his collar and necktie.

"What in the world are you trying to do, sir?" demanded the wondering waiter, as the patron reached down to untie his shoes. "This isn't bed-time."

"A casual glance, young man, responded the patron, "should suffice to show you that I am removing my clothes."

"But—but," objected the waiter, "you can't remove your clothes in here."

"I can't swim with them on," answered the patron, pointing to the stew, "and swimmers must in order to reach yonder tiny island of meat."

Orfordville News

Orfordville, May 10.—Orfordville is safely over the top with the Victory loan in spite of the handicap under which it labored. In the fourth loan which was for six billion dollars the amount assigned to Orfordville was $15,000, and she completed the task with apparent ease. In the last issue, which was for four billions five hundred millions, by some process or reasoning, the committee appointed Orfordville with $26,500, an increase of between 70 and 80 percent. In spite of this the committee undertook the task of raising the goal had been reached with a safe margin.

Janes Trounce Junior Fairies, 5-4, In Ten Rounds

By George McManus.

REORGANIZED TEAM SHOWS REAL FORM IN OPENER

BY "GIRAR"

The Lawrence Lunch Janes came into their own at the Fair grounds yesterday when they defeated the Fairbanks Moose Apprentices nine of Beloit by a score of 5 to 4. It took ten innings to finish the job, but the brand of ball displayed by the locals in all except one inning was far above the average for early season games.

Eldred hurled a star game for the locals, sending fifteen of the line out to the bench with a strikeout. Wooten of Beloit also threw a consistent game, fanning ten of the locals.

The best crowd of the season witnessed the contest, about 160 fans, and the present. Most of them showed real baseball spirit and the Janes were well supported. There were several empty seats in the grand stand, however. The bower City band appeared on Main street at two o'clock to start the celebration and then adjourned to the park, where they played at intervals during the game.

Alderman W. J. Hill threw the first ball of the season for the Lawrence Lunch Janes and Alvin Smith, catcher, decked in a large number of music and met received it. Then the game was on.

Janes Start in First

Pire started the doings in the first inning by hitting a hot one to Huebner, the Beloit shortstop, who muffed it and let the ball fall safe on the initial sack. He stole second and advanced to third when Huebner bungled again on Kukulski's drive. Menzel fled out on Olson and first baseman who fielded Olson and threw to third. Kukulski was caught stealing third. Miller fanned and the side went out.

Olson batted first for Beloit and was an easy out when he hit one to Dopp, who let it be said that Kleinheinz, the long Madison lad who held down first for the Janes, looked good. The big fellow took every chance that came his way and never wavered once on any throw, good or bad. Then he came out and threw him out at first.

The next inning was uneventful, neither side scoring. In this frame Dopp for the Janes and Hertzfeld for Beloit caught a clean hit, but nothing came of it.

Huebner Muffs Third One

In the third Eldred walked, Pire fanned and Eldred went to the key stone sack when Huebner pulled his third batter. Miller then made a nice sacrifice which landed Eldred on third and Kukulski on second. Miller hit one to Helderman who missed it. Third went home and Kukulski to third. Kleinheinz and Viny then fanned, ending the inning.

Beloit got two men on in their half of the third, but neither of them got past second, one dying when he tried to steal on Crooke and the other on a pop from Pire.

The fourth and fifth innings were fast but non-productive of runs, only six Janes and seven Beloiters facing the pitchers in both frames. Pire for Beloit got a clean hit, but died for second. Four F. B. men ran three fled out and one was out on an easy roller. Two Janes fanned, three fled out and one was out on an easy play from short to first. These were the two best innings of the game, there being no errors on either side and lots of fast play.

Sixth a Bad One

The sixth was the bad inning for the Janes. Wooten, the Beloit hurler got to first on Pire's error and went to second on Olson's sacrifice hit. Laffin got to first on a muffed fly by Viny. Then Wooten scored and Laffin went to third when Menzel booted a fly. Helderman fanned and Hertzfeld scored when Wooten got on another error. Several more errors followed to end the sixth.

Things started good for the Janes in their half when Kleinheinz walked and Viny got a single, but due to poor base running and rotten coaching no runs were made. In the seventh the Fair youngsters got another when Pire hit a couple and was knocked in by Wooten. This made it 1 to 2 for the Beloiters.

Janes The Score

The eighth was the big inning for the Janes. Menzel got a two bagger and Miller walked. They each moved up a notch when Kleinheinz made a perfect sacrifice and Menzel came home on a long fly by Viny. Miller same home on Dopp's single, tying the score. Crooke walked, and then it was two down and two strikes on Helderman. Pire hit a couple and was knocked in by Wooten. This made it 1 to 2 for the Beloiters.

The ninth was short and snappy. Three Janes fled out, two on fouls, two Beloiters fanned and one was out on an easy bingle. In the tenth only three line city batters faced Eldred. The first was out, a fly to Kleinheinz, the second died on a pop to Pire and the third fanned.

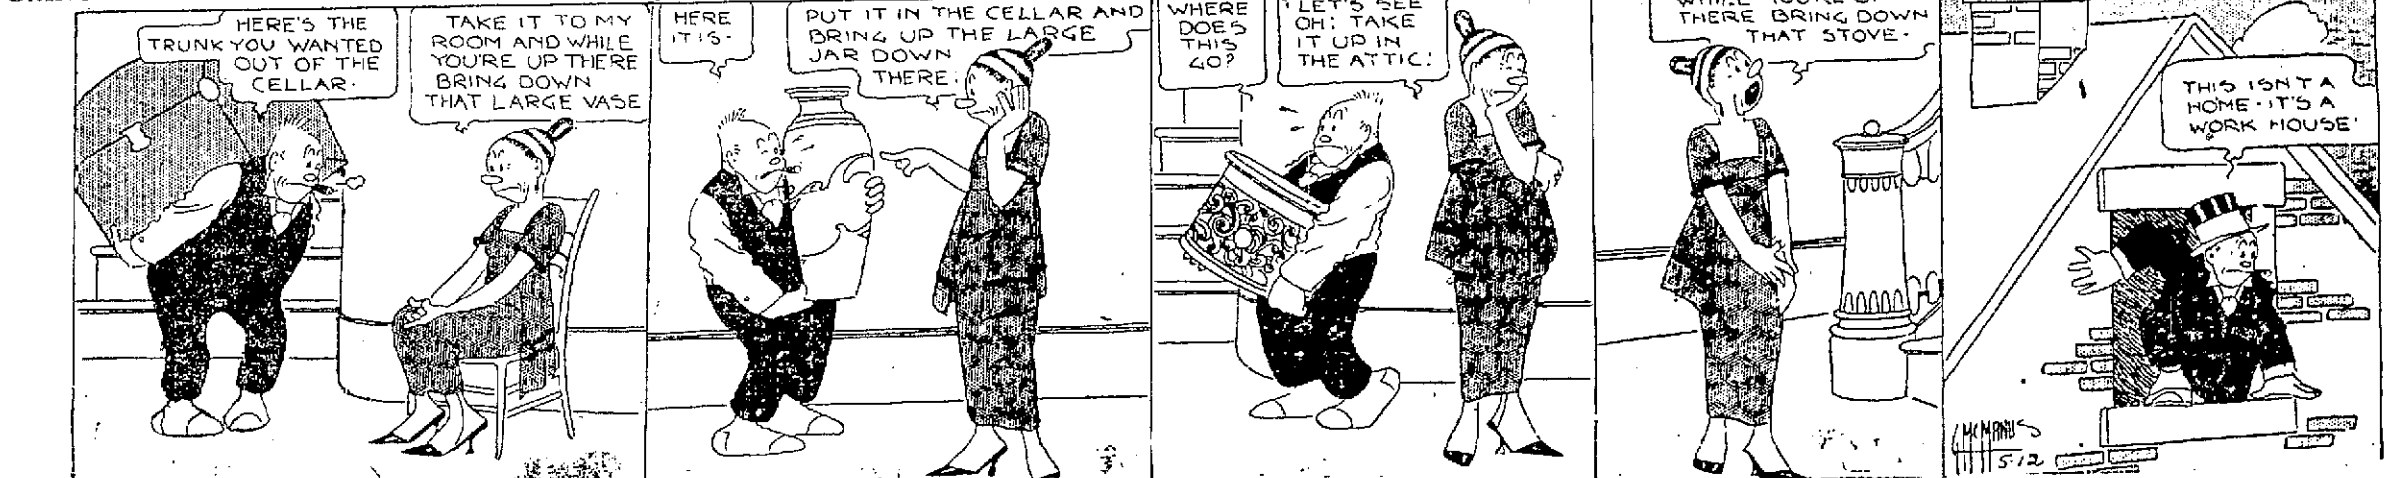

The Janes started poorly in this inning when Menzel and Miller fanned. Then Kleinheinz walked, stole second, and finished the circuit for the winning run on a couple of errors and poor throws.

VILLA FORCES DESTROY RAILWAY BRIDGES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, May 12.—Five bridges on the branch of the National Railway of Mexico between Torreon and Chihuahua city, have been destroyed by Villa forces, according to dispatches received here from Mexico city. The dispatches said that when traffic is restored every train will be preceded by a guard of federal troops large enough to repulse any rebel raid.

Troops are being moved from Torreon to protect workmen engaged in rebuilding the wrecked bridges.

To facilitate intercourse between the United States and Mexico, the regulations have been modified to provide that residents of either country may obtain permit cards which will allow the holder to cross the border, and to visit the interior of the other country in emergency cases.

DUAL TRACK MEET MAY BEGIN FRIDAY

The preliminary events in preparation for the dual track meet will be completed off the boards in the high school gym class, Tuesday afternoon. The 500 yard run and the finals of the 220 yard potato race will be completed.

The 350 yard run will be completed in the gym boys' class Tuesday evening also giving the representatives in the relay.

Each man is to run the same distance in the relay and there is much speculation on the part of the crowd as to which class will take the event in the finals as it means a blue ribbon to each member of the winning team, yet it means nothing for the losers.

All back unfinished events will also be completed and those who are qualified to run must be present or their places forfeited. The events will probably be finished in this class Tuesday, so the dual track meet between the two classes may start Friday.

Second Babe Ruth on Boston Prep Team

Boston, Mass., May 11.—Pat Walsh, 19 years old, pitcher on the Canton High school nine, this week smashed all-pitching records by striking out twenty-six of the twenty-eight players that faced him in the Sharon High game. Walsh was formerly the team's catcher and took up pitching at the suggestion of Headmaster Ray E. Cole. In his college days a diamond star at Bates college, Walsh has aspirations to become a big league player. He is a second Babe Ruth at the bat, his record for the season to date being ten hits, including one home run and two two-baggers, in twenty times at the bat. In the Sharon game he bagged a homer and two-bagger, scoring three runs of the 9 to 0 score.

Breaks Swim Century
Alameda, Cal., May 11.—Harold ("Stubby") Kruger, former swimming star of Honolulu, now a student at St. Mary's college in Oakland, won the A. U. 100-yard championship and set a new record for the event today. His time was 0:57 3-5, beating the record held by Abe Slagle, Chicago, two-fifths of a second.

Tennis Champs Win
Montreal, May 12.—Molla Bjurestedt, American women's tennis champion, and Walter Merrill Hall, middle states title holder, defeated Eleanor Sears of Boston and Vincent Richards, national boys' champion, in an indoor tennis match yesterday at a benefit for Children's Memorial hospital.

The Umpire Says:

Dopp at third made a swell stop and throw on Ole's grounder for the first out.

The team received a new baseball on Saturday from each of the following firms: Rock County Bank, Federal Bakeries, Robt. Hockett, Janesville Tire Co., Harry Van Gilder, and DeCianey & Langdon.

The Fairies half of the sixth was a wild one; Wooten, first up got on when Pire let his grounder get away. Olson sacrificed, Laffin hit an easy one to Viny, who dropped it, Wooten scoring. Helderman struck out, Hertzfeld hit to Menzel and another muffed sent Laffin home. Wittle singled and Helderman scored, Tustin struck out ending the agony.

Both pitchers were working good for this time of year, Eldred fanning 15 and Wooten 16.

Hertzfeld of the Fairies is a good catcher but he hasn't got a thing on Wee Tommy Crooke.

Manager Murphy wishes to thank the business men and fans who made it possible to have the band out Sunday. He also extends his thanks to the fans who attended the game and promises them an improved lineup after some practice can be had.

Murphy wants all players at the Park Tuesday evening at 6:30 sharp to play a practice game with the fifth school seniors. All uniforms must be turned in by Tuesday night as they are to be relettered.

GAS HOUSE OLYMPICS BEAT JUNIOR STARS

Playing errorless ball and using the stick to good advantage, the Gas House Olympics defeated the Junior All-Stars 16 to 3, at the Hickory street diamond Sunday afternoon at 2:30. With the first defeat of the season for the youthful Stars.

Pitted against the unbeatable battery, Chamberlain in the box, and Kechn of Evansville behind the rubber, the Stars were almost helpless. The two teams will play the second game of the series later in the season. The Olympics will meet the strong Milton nine on the Olympic's diamond, Sunday afternoon at 2:30. With the hope of sending the village boys home on the shorter end of the score, the Olympic scouts will get out this week and hunt up some new pitchers. Anyone wishing to try out for the team should confer with Manager Anderson or call Bell phone 1223 in the evening. Practice will be held every Wednesday and Friday evenings.

(By Special Correspondent)

Edgerton, May 12.—Two hundred fans witnessed the Highway Threshers team of this city pry off the baseball lid with a 7 to 6 victory over the Essex Market nine of Madison in 12 innings of exciting baseball at the drive-park yesterday afternoon.

The Madison team tied the score in their half of the ninth and from then on until the final inning both sides played air-tight baseball. Madison threatened to score in the eleventh when the first man up singled to center field but a quick double play, Trevorrah to Whitford to L. Olson put the damper on their scoring in this inning.

The home team paved their way for a run in the twelfth inning with the assistance of the visitors by a wild leave over first base.

The turn out of fans was very satisfactory and it is evident that they want baseball and it is the intention of the management to book some good games for the season. The Rockford grounds have been booked for next Sunday.

The Manufacturing Facilities of The Standard Oil Company (Indiana)

UNDERLYING the manufacturing activities of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), are the same high ideals of service; the same thoughtful consideration of detail; the same earnest desire to do a big job thoroughly and well, which animates the Company in every other branch of its business.

Every facility which wide experience, ample resources, and the utmost skill of scientifically trained technicians can devise, or suggest, is provided to insure absolute uniformity and the highest standard of quality in each of the many products manufactured by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

The manufacturing facilities of the Company are concentrated in three great refineries, one located at Whiting, Ind., covering 700 acres; one at Wood River, Ill., covering 600 acres; and one at Sugar Creek, Mo., covering 200 acres of ground.

The Whiting works is conceded to be the most complete, the most perfectly organized oil refinery in the world. Here practically every product of petroleum is manufactured, and here are located the great research laboratories where the problems of manufacture are worked out and solved.

The plants at Wood River and Sugar Creek are modern in every particular and so organized as to use every part of the crude oil. This enables the Company to keep manufacturing costs at a minimum and to supply its patrons with products of the highest standard at prices which otherwise would be impossible.

The 7,000 earnest, industrious, well-paid men and women who make up the personnel of these three refineries, constitute, we believe, the most loyal, the most enthusiastic, most efficient, industrial army to be found anywhere.

The facilities alone for manufacture maintained by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) represent an investment of approximately $60,000,000. This investment is growing constantly to enable the Company to maintain the high standard of service it has set for itself and which it believes the public is entitled to receive.
